Defendants Called Patriots by Their Counsel; Liars by Government Lawyer.

Attorney William Rand jr. began his address this morning to the jury before Judge Howe in the United States District Court, where the trial of Dr. Karl Buens and other employees of the Hamburg-American Line for conspiracy to defraud the Government is approaching its end.

Mr. Rand, speaking for the alleged conspirators, said that his clients were men of acknowledged probity. He ridiculed the efforts of the Government to build up a case against prosecutor to Sherlock Holmes and his assistants to Holmes's man Watson, who was ever ready with the needle. Their prosecution amounted to unjust persecution, he asserted, as there had been no violation of United States laws with intent.
